

Healthcare Writing Practice

Do one of the following activities:

Activity 1

Write at least one paragraph about one of the following:

A visit to the doctor that you remember.
What you think about health care in America.
An illness that you remember.
What you have learned in this class.

1. Use at least four vocabulary words from this class.
2. Write your paragraph in the correct tense (for example: something you remember happened in the past).
3. Exchange your paragraph with another student and ask him/her to correct any mistakes.
4. Show your paragraph to the teacher.
5. Read your paragraph to the class.

Optional: Type your paragraph on a word processor and save it to a floppy disk before you read it to the class.

Activity 2

Write four sentences. You may write one sentence about each topic or two sentences about two topics:

A visit to the doctor that you remember.
What you think about health care in America.
An illness that you remember.
What you have learned in this class.

1. Use at least four vocabulary words from this class.
2. Write your sentences in the past tense.
3. Exchange your sentences with another student and ask him/her to correct any mistakes.
4. Read your sentences to the class.
5. Show your sentences to the teacher.
5. Type our sentences on a word processor and save them to a floppy disk.

Activity 3

Write a 10-15 line dialogue between two people. The topic of the conversation must be health. Use at least eight vocabulary words from this class. You may write in the present tense, but write some of your dialogue in the past and/or future tense also. Share your dialogue with the teacher. Type your dialogue on a word processor and save it to a floppy disk. Say your dialogue in front of the class with another student.
